Message from the President

Sandra Proud

President 2014-2015

Dear League members,

Wow - what a great turn out we had at the last general membership meeting!! It was the best turn out we have had all year. We voted on bylaw changes and voted in the Provisionals as well as the new board members for next year.

Congratulations to the ladies who were elected to the 2015 – 2016 Board. The election process went extremely well. The campaign speeches were great and I applaud all the ladies for their positive remarks towards each other.

All the ladies who ran for a position were well qualified and deserving so I'm sure it was a hard decision when voting. I am very confident that the league is in good hands next year.

I would like to thank the league for the Outstanding Women Awards 2015 nomination. It was an honor to be nominated along with Kris Hartman, our amazing Sustainer Representative.

The next few weeks are going to be very busy gearing up for GNO. Many of you have been working very hard to make this event a huge success. In the end it doesn't just take a committee it takes the whole league working together to be successful. Let's get the word out ladies and pre-sell those tickets. Remember that this is our biggest fundraiser and the success of this event helps to ensure that we have funding for our literacy and nutrition events throughout the year.

"Nobody can do everything, but everyone can do something." ~Author Unknown

Sincerely,

Sandra Proud

Laura McGowan

Laura McGowan is a Pueblo native, born and raised. She and her husband, Mike, have been married for 26 years, and have two wonderful children, Courtney, a senior at UCCS, and Ryan, a junior at Centennial High School. Laura graduated from USC (now CSU-Pueblo) in 1989 with a BSBA Degree in Accounting. Today, she is self-employed, offering bookkeeping services from her home.

Laura has been a member of the Junior League for more than eight years. She says, "I'd always volunteered, but when I moved back to Pueblo, after living away for more than 14 years, I knew I needed a way to meet new people and get involved in all the new, exciting changes happening in my hometown."

Like many women, Laura is passionate about networking with other career-minded women, and she believes in being involved in her community. "I really love the mission of AJLL. That, as an involved group of women, we are '...committed to promoting voluntarism, developing the potential of women and improving communities through the effective action and leadership of trained volunteers.' After all, it was in Junior League I met some of my best friends – strong, intelligent women who've really made a difference in this region."

Today, Laura values the time she spends with her family, especially with her children, both active, busy young adults. Though Laura spent their youth serving the PTA and volunteering at their schools, today, she's proud to see them become happy adults. "We're so proud of the independent, hardworking people they've both become." Laura likes to work out, sit at the pool or beach, and vacation with her family. "Vacations are the only time we four are together anymore. It's funny, but we have to get away to be together!" In fact, if you see Laura this month, be sure you congratulate her on the most recent get-away she took with her family! At age 50, Laura summited her first "Fourteener," Mt. Quandry, just this past summer. Way to go, Laura!

Laura's mottos for life are direct and simple, but have provided solid guidance for choices and actions in most things: "Treat others as you would like to be treated," and "If it's not broke, don't fix it!"

Let your Light Shine Sustainer Spotlight

Kenda Bloder

Kenda Bloder moved to Pueblo with her husband (Jerry) in 1972 from Boulder where she and her husband graduated from the University of Colorado. Kenda graduated with a Bachelors of Arts in Fine Art, Jerry earned his degrees in Aerospace Engineering and Marketing. and found a position working at Colorado Fuel and Iron as an Engineer. After five years of marriage they started a family here in Pueblo. A daughter (Dana) who resides in New York City and a son (Geoff) who resides in Denver with his wife and three year old daughter. Once the kids were in high school Kenda went to work for the Pueblo Manor. Now known as the Pueblo Genesis Center with 25 years before retiring. Kenda has 30 years of teaching experience (the members of my night class now have been with me 15 years) at the Heritage House of Art a couple days a week. She chuckled, “now as days you see these painting classes that offer wine while you paint. We have been doing that for years”.

New in town she met Judy Fonda, a real active member in the community. In 1985, to join the league a current member needed to sponsor you before you could join. With Judy’s endorsement Kenda joined Junior League.

Kenda was on the Communications Committee, she worked on the Pueblícatíon. She remembers how different it was back then, “then it was cutting apart different pieces of information then putting it together to take down to the printer”. She participated in the Follies and Done in a Day events. As a Sustainer Member, Susie Cunningham got her involved with the group and Kenda became the secretary of the Sustainer Group. She later followed the leadership path to become the Vice President and then President. “I believe Junior League has enriched my life with great friendships and got me involved in the Pueblo community. I enjoyed the children’s projects as much as anything”.

Nowadays Kenda is enjoying her retirement. “Between retirement and working I look back and thought there was not one single thing to complain about, enjoy retirement”. She is staying healthy by trying new things like Zumba and Tai Chi. She now has time to join her friends for lunch. She just returned from a Mexican vacation where she took authentic Mexican Cuisine cooking lessons. The Chef was from our sister town of Puebla, Mexico. She and her friends, also known as the “salmon wives”, take a girl trip every year. This year they plan to take a cruise in June. She loved to visit their daughter in New York. One of her favorite places to visit is Barcelona, Spain. The Architecture, food, and the people are just great. The city allowed past artists to express their creativity through amazing architecture. A goal of Kenda’s is to get a stamp in her passport every year.

When asked, what do you hope the current and future members get out of Junior League of Pueblo? Kenda hopes, “for great friendship and the opportunity for serve their community”.

Girls' Night Out Update

GNO attracts vendors from throughout Colorado; Tickets now on sale at all Legacy Bank locations

The League's Girls' Night Out GNO committee has worked tirelessly to not only exceed sponsorship revenues from last year, but to attract an interesting and unique group of vendors for the show, set for 5:30 p.m. on Friday, April 17. The show's more than 60 vendors are not only local businesses, but many are coming from outside Pueblo and including Parker, Aurora, Colorado Springs, Westcliffe, Wiley, and Ordway. Traveling all the way from Trinidad to join us is Bree Pappan who will bring her very cool vintage Mod clothes collection from her traveling vintage-wear business, Vintage Treasures. The vintage clothes will help define our "Girls Gone Mod" theme which is accented by a free Mod martini for all guests, and the jazz-inspired stylings of Andy, Brook, and Ryan of the Martini Shot, which will perform from 8 to 9 p.m.

But don't arrive too late, we'll have our Primrose sponsored shopping hour beginning at 5 p.m., and a Fashion Show brought to you by Seabel's Boutique, Vintage Treasures, Bolder Bands, Mister Penguin Tuxedos, Adorable U, and a brand new local boutique – Sweet Pea Boutique – starting at 6 p.m.

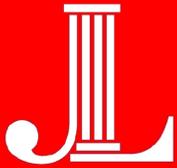

Ladies also have a chance to win a night's getaway in Discount Limousines Party Bus, and enter the League's Cookbook raffle for a chance to win $1,000. Both drawings will be announced toward the end of the evening. Also, look forward to more than 50 silent auction items, including a Disney Excursion Package.

Tickets are now available and can be purchased from a Junior League Member, or by visiting any Legacy Bank location. Tickets will be sold at Legacy Bank until 3 p.m. on Friday, April 17. Cost is $15 in advance and $20 at the door! All League members are required to sell 5 tickets, as the event exists as the League's primary fundraiser to support its growing, and free children's literacy and health programs.
